

Reflective Supervision

Practice supervision gives one worker responsibility for reviewing and supporting the work of another colleague or group of colleagues. Reflective supervision can support practitioners' critical thinking and analysis, enhance emotional wellbeing and is a core element in any learning organisation.

This selection of learning resources about supervision can be used to support evidence-informed practice with children, young people and families.

Key Resource

Reflective supervision: Learning Hub \(2025\) – a resource hub that contains practical tips, learning from research and ideas about how to put learning into practice in supervision. Resources are broken down into six sections:

1. What is the purpose of supervision?
2. Putting reflection at the heart of supervision
3. Supporting critical analysis
4. Building effective supervision relationships
5. Using group supervision
6. Emotional resilience and containment
