ABOUT THE PROJECT

The Children's Information project funded by the Nuffield Foundation is an innovative collaboration between local authorities and universities to improve the way that information about and from children, young people and families is used in local and national Government. This information shapes and informs the support and services provided to meet and respond to the diverse needs of children, young people and families.

The project is a collaboration involving two County Councils (North Yorkshire and Hampshire), two Borough Councils (Oldham and Rochdale, working with the Greater Manchester Combined Authority), five universities and Research in Practice. The researchers and local authorities work closely together, enabling collaboration and co-production between children, young people, parents and carers, practitioners, managers, data analysts, service leaders and policymakers to understand and shape how information can be used ethically and effectively.

ABOUT THE WEBINAR

Research in Practice are hosting this open invitation webinar as part of the Children's Information Project. The webinar provides a space to think together about the opportunities and challenges of developing a single view of the child.

A single view of the child means different things to different organisations. There are a range of approaches, each with their own opportunities and challenges.

During the event, we will hear from:

- local authorities that have taken different approaches to developing a single view of the child,
- sector leaders and technical experts, and
- users who will share how they use their platforms and the impact it has had.

Title: Single view of the child

When: Thursday 21 November 2024 from 12:30–15:30 (online)

To book a place in this event, please get in touch.

AUDIENCE

This session will be most valuable for professionals who are thinking about, or have begun developing, a single view of the child. Such as:

- local authority leaders, developers, and project staff,
- local authority data and performance and information governance staff, and
- professionals from non-government organisations involved in developing single view of the child or related platforms.

We value diverse voices, so please get in touch to help decide if the webinar is for you.

PARTICIPATION

During the participatory session, there will be plenty of opportunity to talk to colleagues and technical experts, ask questions and reflect on what might apply to your local development work. Some themes include:

- Ethics - what ethical issues should we be mindful of?
- Voice - how can diverse voices be included and prioritised?
- Technology & systems - how do we navigate complex challenges, such as interoperability and information governance?
- Leadership culture - what factors enable success?

The webinar will be an opportunity to share ideas and insights into what does and does not support the development of a single view of the child.

PREPARATION

HOW SHOULD I PREPARE FOR THE WEBINAR?

No specific preparation is needed for the webinar but you might find it helpful to reflect upon some of these questions relating to the journey to develop a single view of the child...

HOW WILL WE BRING INFORMATION TOGETHER FROM DISPARATE SOURCES?

HOW WILL DIVERSE VOICES BE PRIORITISED?

HOW WILL WE DECIDE WHAT TO (AND WHAT NOT TO) SHARE?

HOW WILL THE PLATFORM BE USED AND WHAT PROBLEM WILL IT SOLVE?
